

Phoenix Will Soon Be Accepting Donations From YOU

Unfortunately this donation is in the form of Parking fees, which amount to double-taxation and there isn't a choice in the matter, unless you speak up.

What you should know about the new fee to park near Phoenix mountain trail heads:

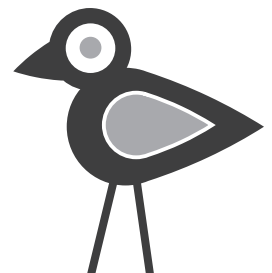

From October 2009 to the present, The City of Phoenix has imposed more than $100 Million in NEW taxes including water rates, sewer rates, business permit fees, application fees, towing charges – plus a new $50 million food tax.

The Parks and Recreation Board, which has authority to raise fees without City Council approval, voted last week to charge for parking at mountain preserve lots.

The mountain preserve parking fee came with virtually no notice to the public before it passed.

It will not be enforced – meaning no one has to pay any fine -- until authorized by City Council, until after an “education” period, which might not be for months.

Your tax dollars have already paid for upkeep and maintenance of this trail. Do not allow yourself to be double-taxed.

PLEASE DO NOT PURCHASE A PARKING PASS.
LET PHOENIX CITY COUNCIL KNOW HOW YOU FEEL ABOUT THIS MATTER.

Thanks and Happy Hiking!

This Populist Message was Brought to You by:

Digital Revolution Media
digitalrevaz.com

LENOXREIGN.COM

Camelback Triathlon Club

Information courtesy of Councilman Sal Diccio, who opposes the new park fees